

2018 gilbrea centre for Studies in Aging

2019 SEMINAR SERIES

This series creates opportunities for the exchange of ideas and stimulates discussion amongst associate researchers, graduate and undergraduate students, community members, and older people. This year we will be hosting several seminars with various research groups and networks to explore this year's chosen research theme "Visual Methods and Knowledge Exchange" with a focus on aging.

More information at <http://gilbrea.mcmaster.ca/events>
Contact: gilbrea@mcmaster.ca | 905-525-9140 ext 24449

The Contribution of Literary Scholarship to Gerontology

Marlene Goldman, Professor
University of Toronto

September 14, 2018
1:00-2:00pm
LRW 1003

GERAS DANCE: DANcing for Cognition & Exercise

Courtney Kennedy & Patricia Hewston
GERAS Centre for Aging Research

October 24, 2018
1:00-2:00pm
LRW 1003

Visual Methodology and Aging Vitalities

Nadine Changfoot, Associate Professor & Chair
Trent University

November 28, 2018
2:30-3:30pm
LRW 1003

Enhancing Access to Quality Long-Term Care Services for Older LGBTQ Persons

Alisa Grigorovich, CIHR Health System Impact Postdoctoral Fellow
Toronto Rehabilitation Institute – UHN

January 29, 2019
1:00-2:00pm
LRW 1003

Social Participation at the Intersection of Old Age and Lifelong Disability: Showcasing How It Feels Through a Photo Novel Lens

Émilie Raymond, Associate Professor
Université Laval

March 28, 2019
2:30-3:30pm
LRW 1003

All sessions will be held at
L.R. Wilson Hall (LRW), McMaster University
1280 Main Street West, Hamilton

